Classic Performance - Channel 5

Elgar Concert Overture Cockaigne and Cello Concerto in E minor - Jacqueline Du Pre, London Symphony Orchestra and philharmonia Orchestra, conducted by Sir John Barbirolli

Reissued as the final title of EMI's Great Recordings of the Century, this is still the standard by which recordings of the Elgar cello concerto are judged.

Wilms - Symphonies No 6 in D Minor and no 7 in C minor - The Concerto Kohn, conducted by Werner Erhardt

Johann Wilhelm Wilms (1772-1847) was German but made his home in Amsterdam where he was a pianist, organist, flautist and teacher. His sixth symphony won a prize in Ghent in 1820, but the seventh was not performed in its entirety until 2002.
